

An empty house can be so relaxing sometimes. Kickin back and watching movies all day

Some ppl hate coming home to an empty house. I love it. Living alone is dope to me honestly

Waking up to an empty house is the most beautiful thing in the world

I only like having the house to myself for five minutes then I get lonely lol

I'm bored in this empty house all by myself if you want to come over you should cause this house is bitchin

I'm so unaccustomed to being alone, I forgot that I was. It's...weird. But not unwelcome. semptyhouse

Coming home to an empty quiet house after being around good people and friends all weekend really just isn't ideal

I actually look forward to decorating the house by myself every year now, is that weird?

I'm getting used to coming home to an empty house

The upside of staying in an empty house is that nobody would ever know if you do something stupid

I guess it's just another Friday night alone wemptyhouse

When I have a house one room will be completely empty with white walls, so that I can sit and simply think and feel free

Okay I'm really not trying to stay in this house all by myself

Leave from an empty house come back to an empty house

Forever giving myself pep talks to walk through dark parts of my house alone

Empty house! Empty house! Walkin around with no pants on!!!!

Getting to know people is too tedious and stressful! I think I'll just lock myself away in my house forever

If they sold "coming home to an empty house" in pill form, I'd buy it in bulk from Canada

I love living alone, having a neat and clean house, and having my bed all to myself

I have a love-hate relationship with waking up to an empty house. Freedom is nice, but where the fuck is everyone?

Starting to think working by myself all day then sitting in an empty house at night is putting me on the fast track to crazy cat lady

I just love coming home to an empty house =llied

I want a small full house full of people and stuff. I want to have that good full feeling. Not a big dark empty spacey house

The best part of going home to an empty house is that nobody else is there. I mean I don't even care how my own day was

Smuggled up on the couch in the cold weather and having the house to myself is the best way to spend my night

Came home to a clean and empty house. I can dig the clean part

I'd love to hang out, but I have to go sit in my house watching cartoons by myself
